

Lab Assignment 2:

Q: Implement both a standard GAN and a Wasserstein GAN using the MNIST dataset. Use the same generator architecture for both models and compare their training behavior through loss curves and generated samples. Analyze how replacing the discriminator with a critic and using the Wasserstein loss affects training stability, mode collapse, and image quality. Support your discussion using suitable quantitative metrics such as FID or Inception Score.